

Festival of Endless Gratitude is looking for volunteers to join the Art and Design Team

WHAT

Festival of Endless Gratitude (FoEG) is an independent, international nonprofit music and arts festival, which has been happening since 2009 in Copenhagen. The festival takes place on November 2nd-4th and in the course of three days it presents 20-25 musical acts and various installations by artists from all over the world. See more at foeg.dk.

We're looking for more people to join our group and help create the festival we love. Specifically we're looking for volunteers to work in a small group of 2-4 people to be part of creating the space design and decorations as well as the stage design for this year's Festival of Endless Gratitude. You'll work closely with our art director who is in charge of the overall visual identity and who'll also be part of the group.

In this role you will get hands-on experience with the creative process of designing a festival and to make your ideas come to life in the physical space of the festival. The work will consist of both planning, designing and creating a production plan before the festival takes place as well as building and constructing the actual space in the days leading up to the festival.

WHO

We're looking for someone who has a good visual and spatial understanding and a lot of ideas for engaging and mesmerizing spaces. You are also able to carry out the ideas and convert them into something physical. You're good at finding creative solutions on a small budget. Maybe you have a background in design, art or interior design, but this is not a must.

You think it's fun to work with art in spaces in collaboration with a small team and you're also willing to give a hand with other tasks. The festival group consists of about 15 people and we all help each other when it is needed. We're all committed to making the best festival possible while having a lot of fun and we expect you to share that ambition.

It's not necessary that you know the festival or the artists that we present, but it's important that you want to be a part of a community of experimental art and music with a long history in Copenhagen.

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

This is a nonprofit festival, and everyone who's a part of the arranging group are working voluntarily and are therefore unpaid - but you will of course get access to the festival, including drinks and food.

We expect you to make a commitment but the number of working hours will depend on what you can contribute and the ideas of the group. It's important that you can be a part of all relevant meetings, which would roughly be once every one to two weeks and possibly more leading up to the festival. We need your help from now until the end of the festival.

The art and design group will have a lot of freedom in the creation, as long as the ideas fit the budget, the identity of the festival and this year's theme.

Send us a few lines about yourself, any relevant information for the role and why you want to be a part of the art and design team for Festival of Endless Gratitude to maria@foeg.dk.

Send us your application by Sunday the 13th of August.
